

Revolutionizing processes,
boosting capacity.

Jiangsu Yongyou Logistics Co
Nantong, China.

The Jiangsu Yongyou Logistics Co. Ltd is located on the banks of the Yangtze River in Nantong, near Shanghai – the ideal location for grain transfer and trade in mainland China.

With its annual grain operation and trading volume reaching more than 1.5 million tons, Yongyou felt it was time to significantly enhance the facility's ship loading and unloading capacities.

Skilled provider

Yongyou's ambition of handling between 500 and 20,000 tons for its inland river capacity required a skilled and experienced specialist partner, and Bühler's unmatched expertise in this area enabled it to provide a completely tailor-made engineering and project design service.

High performance

The high performance of the Portaload and Portalink also help to reduce operating and personnel costs, while the chain-type ship unloader and dust suppressor design of the loader dramatically reduce the impact on the surrounding area compared with a traditional grab unloader. Bühler's tailor-made solution maximizes efficiency, boosts capacity and increases environmental compliance – all at the same time.
