Learn to grow. Bühler Learning Center.
Since Bühler’s founding in 1860 the success of our company relies on educating our employees. We want to enable our employees to benefit from trends such as digitalization with modern, relevant, and personalized trainings for the century to come. This has led to the development of the innovative platform "B-Learning" available to Bühler employees online in addition to the global presence of the Bühler Learning Center. Explore courses on topics such as leadership, health & safety, or language classes.
Values and goals of the Bühler Learning Center.

Our training outcomes are sustainable and measurable. The training content is focused towards providing efficient solutions for our customers. By bringing the 70-20-10 learning concept into our training and combining different state of the art learning formats we ensure effective learning.

- Ensuring the long-term success of the Bühler Group.
- Harmonization of worldwide trainings.
- Aligning all employees’ skills to the Mid-Term Plan and future corporate challenges.
- Benefit from internal potential, synergies, and resources.
- Certification and recertification of Bühler-specific education (licenses).
- Strengthening the competencies of our employees and prepare talents for key positions and succession planning.
- The best-qualified employees.

Vision for the Employee.

We at Bühler are committed to engineering customer success. To do so we believe in being competitive, agile, and engaged with a culture of lifelong learning. Bühler employees have an intrinsically motivated learning mindset and take ownership of their own learning path. Continuous learning is an essential component of our company culture, it takes many forms and spans through the entire life span of each individual. It is key for our success. Everyone has an individual development plan with clearly defined competencies and skills, aligned with organizational and personal goals.

We are passionate about lifelong learning.

Worldwide Trainings by category.

The Bühler Learning Center cultivates a diverse set of learning prospects with a strong focus on best-quality training. We believe in our employees and their potential to thrive and therefore provide state-of-the-art learning opportunities.

Induction Programs.
Undergo an induction program.

All new Bühler employees undergo a globally standardized induction program in which they learn more about Bühler’s history, its corporate culture, and the Bühler Essentials and get to know the most common work equipment and the organization of Bühler. In addition to gaining insights into our products and the background of our engineering approaches, employees learn on the basis of our Code of Conduct, and how to fully comply with the standards of local and international laws and regulations.

High-quality training programs along our core processes are at the heart of the Bühler Learning Center (BLC). Therefore, a licensing system was developed which is closely intertwined with the Bühler global strategy and will provide certifications for employees in their job-specific field of activities.

What is a Bühler License?
A license is a certification earned by a person which confirms his or her qualification to perform a job or task. Through the process of this certification, they will be able to assess and prove their knowledge, experience, and skills to perform a specific task or role. Moreover, it will add further skills and commitment to their professional portfolio.

Why Licensing?
Certification is an important part of personal development. It provides official and public recognition of the competencies and capabilities in the employees’ professional field of activities. In this way, it ensures the competencies of our staff in the business, which is rapidly growing and changing.

How does it work?
According to the defined roles, respective people will be nominated by their supervisor. The next step will be a check of the defined skills. For new colleagues this will be done by the trainings required in the relevant focus area. As soon as all training and knowledge checks are passed, employees receive their license. Of course, our existing staff will not have to pass all the training modules again to get the license. For them, the license will be awarded according to their professional experience with a quick assessment by their supervisor.
